

Building a Better Way of Life in Qatar – Quality for Life™ Video

Engineers in Qatar, such as ASQ member Mohamed Helaly, use quality to ensure a vibrant and safe community. Hear how hospitals, universities, and civic centers are being constructed to brighten the future of residents in this Quality for Life™ video.

Watch the video...

---

Got Plans for World Quality Month?

World Quality Month is coming up in November, and ASQ wants to know what activities your member unit has planned to raise the global voice of quality. Find out how you can participate by reading this letter from ASQ Chair James Rooney and ASQ CEO Paul Borawski.

Learn about World Quality Month 2011...

---

Don't Miss This “Golden” Opportunity

Enter your process improvement team for ASQ’s 2011–12 International Team Excellence Award Process. As the only internationally recognized team competition of its kind in the United States, your team will gain recognition as it demonstrates your organization’s commitment to quality. The deadline for entry is September 12.

Enter your team...

---

Don't Go Phishing

Over the past week, we have been notified of malicious emails being sent to ASQ members that have “asq.org” in the subject line. These phishing emails are not being sent by ASQ and should be discarded. ASQ takes your privacy seriously and will never ask you to provide sensitive information via email. As a reminder, ASQ email is sent from the following email address: listmanger@e.asq.org.

---

Finalists Named for Education Excellence Awards

Five teams from K–12 and higher education institutions have been named finalists in the Education Team Excellence Recognition Awards. The awards, which showcase the nation’s most outstanding improvement efforts, will be presented at the 19th annual National Quality Education Conference (NQEC), sponsored by ASQ. During the conference, the five finalist teams will showcase their projects’ successes.

Learn more...

---

ASQ Healthcare Conference Seeks Presenters

Healthcare organizations that have demonstrated measureable improvement results are invited to present at the 2012 Quality Institute for Healthcare (QIHC), May 21–23, in Anaheim, Calif. The deadline for submitting presentations is September 5.

Learn more...

---